

TRO Exhibit 23

DECLARATION OF ANDY VISSER
Pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §1746

ORIGINAL

1. My name is Andy Visser and I reside in Sarnia, Ontario, Canada. The following facts are known to me personally and if called as a witness I could and would competently testify thereto.

2. On September 18, 2008, at approximately 4:30 pm, I received a telephone call from a gentleman named Dennis Robertson who said he was a representative with Mutual Consolidated Savings (MCS). Mr. Robertson said that he could help lower my interest rate on my credit cards which would save me money. He represented that MCS could do this by negotiating with my credit card companies through a 3-way call between MCS, the credit card company, and me.

3. Mr. Robertson said that I would qualify for this program if I had at least $5000 in debt with an interest rate of 19%. He asked me for the following information to determine whether or not I would qualify: the amount owing on my credit cards, interest rates, and credit card limit. I provided this information for three credit cards. Based upon this information, he guaranteed that MCS would save me ^{more than} $4,000 or I would get my money back. When he asked if I was interested I said yes, and he transferred me to another representative who confirmed the information I had given. Dennis was encouraging me to listen in when MCS would do the negotiations

4. After speaking with a second and third representative, I was told that I would receive a package from MCS. The package would contain a form that I was required to complete and send back to MCS so that they could start work on my account. At this time, I believed that MCS was a governmental agency that helped people with debts.

But that R.I.C.S. couldn't do all this for nothing so they had to ask for a fee of $895. and guaranteed my money back if they didn't save me more than $4000.

5. ~~Near the end of the call, I was informed that there would be a cost of $895 for the program. I was told this after I had already provided all my credit card information.~~ The MCS representative asked me if MCS could just add the fee of $895 directly to one of my credit cards, and I agreed. There was no mention of a time period during which I could cancel the transaction or whether the charge would be in U.S. or Canadian dollars. MCS then charged me for $978.47 CAD. A true and correct copy of my credit card statement showing this charge is attached as Exhibit One.

6. Later that day, I tried to call Mr. Robertson back on the number he provided (1-800-943-3250), but the receptionist said that he was busy and would have to call me back. He did not return my call. The following day, September 19, I tried calling Mr. Robertson again but was told that nobody was available.

7. On September 22nd, I tried calling Mr. Robertson once more but was told by the receptionist that he was unavailable. I informed the receptionist that I would like to cancel my account and obtain a refund. The receptionist transferred my call to a manager who informed me that I could not cancel my account. I did not receive a refund.

8. A few days later, I called my credit card company to try to stop payment. I had already been charged the $978.47 CAD, so I cancelled my credit card. The bank sent me a form to dispute the MCS charge so that they could initiate an investigation. A true and correct copy of this form is attached as Exhibit Two.

9. Approximately 7-10 days after receiving the initial phone call from MCS, the package arrived from MCS via courier. Inside were several CDs, worksheets, a service agreement, a calculator, and the form I was supposed to fill out and return. The return address was listed as MCS Shipping & Handling Department, 1215 Earnest S Brazill St., Suite 33, Tacoma, WA 98405-4025.

I swear or affirm under penalty of perjury that to the best of my knowledge and belief the foregoing is true and accurate.
